Ten Thousand at Least.—The election of Markle, by at least ten thousand majority, is not getting to be generally conceded by all parties. We never in our life saw a candidate run down the gamus of popularity so fast as Shunk has, within his two weeks. It is like a whirtwind. The following resolution was adopted (among (s.) at a meeting of the Whigs, of the first Congressional District of the City of Philadelphia,

d. That in selecting Gen. Joseph Marit Westmoreland county, as our Candidate Governor, we guarantee to the citizens at rge, a faithful execution of the trusts committed him, an economical administration of the Gocoment, and one who, from his sterling integad well tried courage in the hour of peril, is every way qualified for so high and dignified a tation, to which we fill confident he will be elected but a majoritu of at least ten thousand votes!"

[By the Editors of the Enquirer.] So far our correspondent-and now a word for

Very well! Here we have turned the tables on the gentlemen. Have THEY carried Penn-Ivania by 10,000? Where is the "strongest f.ith" of the Richmond Whig) now in Markle's elecon? Gone, of course. Dissipated into thin ir, by the fact of his overwhelming defeat by 1990 Has the Whig even the decency to stick its declarations? Has it ceased to "crow?"—to vise "no more betting?" after it had entrapped confiding friends into heavy wagers and serilosses! No; it is running the same foolish ad of boasting-and crying out only yesterday thing of the glorious news it has received of a certain victory in Pennsylvania. That assu-rance of victory cannot be more "doubly sure" nan it was in the case of Markle-and its boastg now will only be succeeded by a similar deon next Friday week. Cease, then, with your sig gasconade. The blunders you and your and over your present calculations, not of Pennstrania alone, but of all the others. You canaffect to be more sanguine about them now an you were about Markle's majority of 10,000 Hain victory on the first of this month. Our friends assure us, that the Whigs cannot carry Pennsylvania: that they cannot by possibility, obtain more than 3,000 in the int county of Philadelphia-and not even that the Coalition cannot be carried out as and that other causes are in operation, ch will counteract their exertions. know, indeed, that "That the National "lav Club" have addressed "their Corresponds on the 12th, and that they have published r letter, full of false hopes, and of deceptions ements. They are so infatuated as even to say, that "in Georgia the Whigs have gloriously triumphed! Georgia goes for Clay, Frelinghuysen and the Tariff!" What a glorious triumph to the Whigs, not only to lose the a 25 cts. more than 8,000 majority which they had in 1810, but to be beaten near 3,000—and they will lose the State for "Clay, Frelinghuysen and the Tariff' (the Tariff in Georgia!) by at least 5,000. And to cap the climax of their ridiculous calculation, they tell us "Virginia, too, sends us the most Clay! We understand the Whigs. They know, We select the following from Pennsylvania paumph-a triumph, purchased over the integrity of the Republic-by corrupting Liberty at its foun-

What a tax would thus be paidhow dearly will it fall upon ourselves and our children, that such a man as Henry Clay should be elected-gratified in his inordinate ambitionand imposed upon a free People. One word about the calculations we published about Pennsylvania, before the election. It was no dries re all rallying upon our candidate, and that on bragging. We do not act upon that system at all; thought of the second Tuesday of October, we though the Whigs certainly do. In fact, we know that some of our best friends are complaining of us -either that we do not take as sanghine views of our prospects as they have formed—or, that we ever modify, in any form whatever, the most decided calculation of an overwhelming result. There was no braging in the letters of our correspondents. They wrote nothing, but what they pass and honestly believed. Among other letters which we never published, because it was marked ' fidential," was a letter from the Democratic Executive Committee giving an estimate for every county in the State. They ran up the majority to between 15 and 16,000; though they stated, that not knowing how far the Coalition between the Whigs and the Natives would go, they had put the city and county of Philadelphia in blank; but that the greatest injury they could do us was, instead of giving us a majority of between 2 or 3000, it might have cast a majority against us of about 1,000. We know, that this calculation was perfectly honest on their part. It was not intended to be published, nor to be used for effect, and for bragging; but to put us in possession of their conscientious estimate out for Clay. He called upon Gen. Markle as be was passing through here vesterday on his way in reply to their Circulars, from almost every in reply to their Circulars, from almost every county in Pennsylvania. There was no trick estimates, too, were not extravagant, as it turns out, in most of the counties. In many of them, they nearly approximated the result. In several, they fell short of our actual majorities. The whole letter, indeed, bore every mark of honesty upon its face, and such, we have no doubt, from the character of our correspondents, were all the letters we received from Pennsylvania. publican friends in Philadelphia were deceived prices about the vote of the city and county.
